NEW CALEDONIA
VOYAGES

Bonjour!

Welcome to New Caledonia

Discover the French way of life in the South Pacific! Literally on our doorstep, just over 2 hours flying time from Brisbane, under 3 hours from Sydney and less than 4 hours from Melbourne, New Caledonia is a destination known as the Pacific “French Riviera”. This warm, semi-tropical paradise not only sets itself apart from the delight of holidaying on a white sandy beach, snorkelling or sailing in crystal, clear waters and relaxing on a South Pacific island, New Caledonia also adds the flavour of Europe – the France of the South Pacific – from cuisine to wine and shopping to language. New Caledonia is divided into three provinces – Northern, Southern and the Loyalty Islands. The mainland, “La Grande Terre”, is 450 kilometres long and 50 kilometres wide; a diverse and unique destination.

Travel tips

When to go: New Caledonia enjoys a semi-tropical climate. The warm season extends from October to May with average temperatures of up to 27°C. The green season from June to September has average temperatures of around 24°C.

Visa: New Caledonia tourist visa is not required for citizens of Australia for a stay up to 90 days, although you will need to have a return ticket. All passports must be valid for six months from the date of the arrival. If you are not travelling on an Australian passport, please check with the French Consulate.

Language: French is New Caledonia’s official language, but English is widely spoken, especially in Nouméa. About 30 Melanesian dialects are also spoken throughout the country.

Time difference: + 1 hour in Australian winter.

Currency: New Caledonia uses the French Pacific Franc (XPF or CPF). Major credit cards are widely accepted. There are ATMs around Nouméa and other major towns and villages.

Medical: No vaccinations are required to travel to New Caledonia. Once there, however, it is strongly recommended to protect yourself against mosquitoes. As with all overseas travel, it is also recommended that you purchase travel insurance before departure.

Transport: In Nouméa, there is no shortage of public bus transport. Taxis are also readily available. There are two main airports on the mainland. La Tontouta International Airport is situated 45kms north of Nouméa and Magenta Domestic Airport is a few minutes drive from downtown Nouméa.

Electricity: 220v 50Hz. Two pin plug.

Getting there

Aircalin and Qantas fly twelve times per week non-stop from Australia to New Caledonia.

- Departs Sydney daily (except on Wednesday)
- Departs Brisbane three times per week, on Thursday, Saturday and Sunday
- Departs Melbourne three times per week, on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday

Once in Nouméa, New Caledonia’s domestic airline, Air Calédonie, provides scheduled services to Northern Grande Terre, Ile des Pins and to the Loyalty Islands. The domestic airport is at Magenta.

Luxury Combo

Treat yourself to a luxurious stay in four or five-star resorts and experience the unique blend of Melanesian architecture and French elegance. By popular demand, we are delighted to release luxury combo packages staying at the most luxurious resorts of this South Pacific island. These exclusive packages are full of decadence and extravagance; you simply won't want to leave New Caledonia!

Nouméa

Nouméa combines all the laid-back atmosphere of the South Pacific with the urban elegance of France: From the profusion of old French colonial houses with ornate wrought-iron balconies, tree-lined squares and men playing petanque, to French-inspired cafés, restaurants, and designer-label shopping, Parisian style. In contrast, a ten-minute walk reveals the contemporary architecture of the Baie des Citrons, Anse Vata, and Port Moselle, Nouméa's modern face. Nouméa offers a prolific variety of leisure activities, from tennis, golf, squash, and cricket to bush-walking, horse riding, and hunting. The huge barrier reef surrounding the island makes water sports the main recreation; activities that can be enjoyed year-round include sailing, windsurfing, swimming, snorkelling, and scuba diving.

Isle of Pines

Located on the Southern tip of the mainland and just a short 25 - minute scenic flight from Nouméa, Isle of Pines is often referred to as the "Jewel of the Pacific". Isle of Pines is approximately 18km long and 14km wide and, as its name implies, has a prominent pine tree skyline set against white sand beaches and turquoise lagoons. The Kuniés, as the island's inhabitants are known, have kept alive the tradition of sailing pirogues, and you'll see these ancient craft gliding elegantly across the calm lagoon. To ensure a refreshing and memorable stay on the Isle of Pines, we recommend staying at least three nights – after all, what's the hurry! Air Calédonie operates daily scheduled flights from Nouméa and cameras are a must, because the views as you get closer to this magical island are spectacular – Enjoy!

Loyalty Islands

Located northeast of the main island of New Caledonia and only a 40' minute flight from Magenta Airport, Nouméa. No other place better combines the quintessential tropical island activities (or no activity if you choose!) with the friendly Kanak locals and their unique culture like that of the Loyalty Islands. Despite their close proximity to each other, Ouvéa, Lifou and Maré are distinctively different: Maré is known for its deep rock holes, rugged coastal scenery and serene beaches; Lifou for its breathtaking cliff-top views and small secret beaches and Ouvéa is known as "the island closest to paradise" with its never-ending beach and tranquil lagoon stretching endlessly to the horizon.

Grande Terre

Grande Terre is the perfect driving destination being just 400 kms of spectacular scenery from end to end with sealed and sign-posted roads. Excellent facilities and accommodation are found along the way. Central Grande Terre offers enriching cultural experiences, coastal scenery and mountain treks. On the West Coast, you will discover the "Caledonian Far West", with its large livestock farming domains and its hills covered with niaoulis. On the northern tip of Grande Terre, you will enjoy shimmering hills, small sandy coves and a spread of islets set in the backdrop of the lagoon.

Bonjour! Welcome to Airlalin, the International Airline of New Caledonia.

Airlalin is the international airline of New Caledonia and you get a taste of our wonderful country as soon as you step on-board.

The word "calin" in French means a hug; a reflection of our welcoming attitude on-board every flight. You will enjoy the relaxing ambience and atmosphere that is a combination of real Melanesian hospitality with a touch of French class. We are a full service airline and we go out of our way to make sure that your flight is an absolute pleasure.

When you fly with Airlalin you can travel with confidence, because we operate one of the youngest and most modern fleets of Airbus aircraft in the South Pacific rim area. Our cabin service managers and flight attendants do the utmost to ensure that your flight is smooth, comfortable, enjoyable and entertaining.
